Activity n.2

“THE LANGUAGE OF SATIRE: POTENTIALITIES AND MISUSE. RULES OF ENGAGEMENT FOR AN INCLUSIVE COMMUNICATION”

Training Course

PLACE AND DATE: Uri, Sardinia (Italy) 29 February -7, March 2016 (Travel Day included)

PARTICIPANTS: Youth workers aged involved in the fields of communication and dissemination.

COUNTRIES: Bulgaria , Italy, Portugal, Greece, Spain, Croatia

LANGUAGE: The working language will be English.

The Municipality of Uri has the pleasure to promote a Training Course which will empower youth leaders with tools to master satire as a method for transmitting values and ideas. The objectives of the project will sensitize participants on the themes of non discriminatory speech and inclusive communication. The full picture of the event is to stage the ground for an encounter between different cultural sensibilities on the issue with youths as the central actors of exchange and mediation.

It is important to underline that the EU grant is half than usual according to Erasmus+ Programme rules when the applicant is a public body.
The attendance fee per participant is 30 Euro.

ACTIVITIES AND METHODS

The activities will be coordinated through non formal education methods (as group work and activities, presentations, workshops and personal assignments, meetings with trainers, experts etc). During some activities participants will explore the specific issues, reflecting methods and its impacts and simulation exercises for skills development.

During March, weather in Uri is quite warm but it might be a bit colder. Nevertheless, in the evening it can be windy, so we suggest to bring jackets and some warm clothes, together with lighter items.

Accommodation

Participants will be accommodated in B&B La coronedda located in Uri.

TRAINERS

The main coordinator is the Municipality of Uri with the support of the staff members of Mine Vaganti NGO which will provide 4 Trainers/Facilitators both senior and junior. Mine Vaganti NGO has the role of coordinating the communication in between partners.
